DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' amendments and remarks submitted November 3, 2003 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 38-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zajaczkowski (US 5,726,250) in view of Hubbell (US 5,410,016, IDS) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

3. Claims 38-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zajaczkowski (US 5,726,250) in view Jarrett et al. (WO 98/12243, IDS) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' amendments and remarks submitted November 3, 2003 have been fully considered, but are not persuasive with respect to the rejections above for reasons discussed below.

4. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

5. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the teaching and motivation is found both in the prior art and in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. Particularly, Zajaczkowski teaches a wound dressing composition comprising a copolymer which is composed of macromer and monomer. Hubbell et al. or Jarrett teaches biodegradable macromer that is particularly useful in wound dressing composition. It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ the macromer for making the copolymer.
